Regarding Some News Reports Today

The Nikkei dated August 2, 2022 reported on the method of reorganization of our petrochemicals and carbon businesses, however, this was not announced by our company.

We are currently considering specific measures to carve-out our petrochemical and carbon businesses in accordance with our new management policy "Forging the future" announced on December 1, 2021. Currently, no concrete decisions have been made. We will promptly disclose such information when we decide on the facts that should be disclosed.
