

Internal Audits

The Internal Audit Department, which is independent of business and administrative operations, conducts internal audits to assess the effectiveness of internal controls at Mitsubishi Chemical Corporation and its Group companies, monitoring such factors as the adequacy and the efficiency of each organization's governance, risk management and operating processes. The Internal Audit Department contributes to the improvement of the internal controls in close collaboration with the relevant organizations.